

some people reckon
you need to act early
to protect workers'
rights in the future

If the Liberals get their way this young Australian will be denied adequate health care and quality education.

Later in life, he won't have a chance of getting into uni unless his parents are rich.

Knee deep in debt, he'll begin work with no minimum wage, no maximum hours and safety standards that would make Dickens weep.

Stop these changes while there's still a chance.
